Halloween Costume Contest

I need volunteers!

I'm planning ahead for the November 1st Halloween Costume Contest and party...

I need a volunteer to organize treats [human (and dog if wanted!).]

I need at least 3 people to show up a little early and decorate.

I need at least 2 people to stay late and clean up the decorations.

I'm sure I'll be needing more help as the date gets closer.

Thank you,
Karen

Dry Eye

Last month we had a question from a Wrinkle Time attendee...

What's everyone do for dry eye? What meds does your vet have your dog on? How else do you handle it?

Here are the answers we received:

Prescription for Dry Eyes:

Wedgewood Pharmacy 800-331-8272 Tacrolimus
0.02% in Corn Oil (Ophth 5ml sol

This was ordered by the vet I HAD but Wedgewood sent it to me. Had a prescription for several refills so ordered 2 at a time.

Actually looking at the other from my newer vet, believe it or not is actually the very same thing. I have to stress, that his HAS to be an oil base!!!! A water base does NOT work what so ever. Like running water off a ducks back, just doesn't work at all.

Hope this helps everyone that has a Bully with dry eyes.

Thanks

Bev

Another Rescue Filling the Need

Illinois English Bulldog Rescue (IEBR) was formed in 2009 to find homes for purebred English Bulldogs. IEBR rescues dogs from shelters and puppy mills and accepts dogs from owners who for any reason can no longer provide a home for their bully.

The bulldogs that come through our rescue program are seldom in "perfect" condition in terms of health, temperament or both; however with a little love, medical attention and time, rescued English Bulldogs dogs make great companions.

IEBR does not find dogs for people - our mission is to find great people for wonderful dogs.

"Today the crate, tomorrow, THE WORLD !" From the damn cat
I hope my Wrinkle Time friends don't see me hanging out with the cat
See what happens when I don't get to go to Wrinkle Time? I have to socialize with the CAT!
I promise to have this Bulldog crate trained by Christmas
Why do I have to baby-sit the cat?
When do I get to wear the fur coat?
Next time you get into the catnip, save some for me
I would eat you but I don't think I could handle the hairball
MOM the cat is bugging ME
You expect me to rest my head on THAT pillow?
That's what you call true friends:
(Dog), All right, who is the funny guy who put this thing in here? I suppose it isn't sooooo bad. (Cat), Ok, this isn't funny any more.
I know space it tight but this is ridiculous.
When they asked if I wanted a cat I didn't think they meant a real one, but hay, cool.

Animal Rights?

Reprinted with permission from Loretta Baughan

Animal Rights is Wrong by Loretta Baughan

It always amazes me to see how many people fall prey to the slick photos of puppies and kittens national animal rights groups use to solicit donations. Too often, people who support these organizations are misled into thinking they are actually helping animals or their local humane societies. Despite having a name that suggests an active role in overseeing or operating local humane societies, in reality the Humane Society of the United States (HSUS) is little more than a $200-million dollar lobbying organization tirelessly working to ramrod their anti-animal, anti-people agenda into law. On occasions where cases of animal abuse or neglect become the focus of media attention, HSUS often sweeps into town to hog the spotlight while soliciting donations from the unsuspecting public. Like a thief in the night, HSUS packs up and exits - along with the public's donations - as soon as the media's attention fades, leaving struggling, underfunded local animal shelters and rescue groups bearing the financial burden of care for the confiscated animals.

You Know You've Been Owned by Bulldogs Too Long When...

You Know You've Been Owned by Bulldogs Too Long When:

- ◆ the Snoring, Yawning and Farts are second nature!
- ◆ you have a lint roller in every room of the house
- ◆ you can't walk out of pet store less than $100
- ◆ their food sounds more appetizing than yours
- ◆ they start taking you for walks
- ◆ there is a 2' high snark ring around your house...and your car interior
- ◆ you can't fall asleep on your non-dog vacation because there's no snoring in the hotel room
- ◆ you hear screaming kids on an airplane and for the life of you can't figure out how your bully friend could be any worse
- ◆ you think a sneeze in the face is a sign of love
- ◆ you prefer puppies to children
- ◆ your idea of a perfect mate is chubby, short, and wrinkly
- ◆ your vocabulary consists of one word sentences
- ◆ you see your veterinarian more than your human doctor
- ◆ when you are feeling ill you go to the dog medicine cabinet before calling your human doctor
- ◆ you've had to add on to the house to hold your bulldog collectibles
- ◆ you've ever ordered a happy meal for the toy because it looked like a bulldog
- ◆ cars, homes, and beds are all bought with the bully's comfort in mind
- ◆ you are tripping all over a lazy Bulldog who won't get out of your way, but yet you find yourself automatically telling him/her you're sorry
- ◆ you make clothing purchases based on how whether or not slobber/dried drool will easily show up on the fabric
- ◆ you never notice your dog snoring unless a visitor asks you about it
- ◆ they take up more room in the bed than you do!
- ◆ you consider dog hair an accessory and a spice!

Keep sending them and I'll keep adding them! We will see what we can do about putting this list to good use on merchandise!
